

CFSC Gives Back: Catholic Charities Brooklyn and Queens Distributes Over 3,000 Turkeys to Families in Need

Queens, NY, November 24th, 2025 — Catholic Charities Brooklyn and Queens (CCBQ), with generous support from Community Financial Service Centers (CFSC), proudly distributed more than 3,000 turkeys to local families in need this Thanksgiving, helping ensure that thousands of community members could enjoy a traditional holiday meal.

Through CFSC's support, turkey distributions took place at parish and community sites throughout the boroughs, with additional food vouchers provided to help families prepare complete Thanksgiving meals. The effort supported seniors, working families, and individuals facing food insecurity during the holiday season.

"Thanksgiving is a time to stand with our neighbors and support those facing food insecurity," said Reverend Monsignor Alfred P. LoPinto, President and CEO of Catholic Charities Brooklyn and Queens.

"We are grateful for partners like Community Financial Service Centers whose continued support helps make this important work possible."

The annual Thanksgiving initiative reflects CFSC's ongoing commitment to community investment and social responsibility, as well as Catholic Charities' long-standing mission to serve vulnerable populations with dignity, compassion, and care.

Community Financial Service Centers (CFSC) is a leading provider of financial services, offering convenient, transparent, and customer-focused solutions to communities across New York, Illinois, and beyond. With decades of experience, CFSC provides essential services including check cashing, money transfers, bill payment, and prepaid debit products, helping individuals and families manage their financial needs with confidence and ease. CFSC is committed to giving back and supporting initiatives that strengthen the communities it serves.

For more information, visit www.ccbq.org, www.cfsc.com